EXECUTIVE PROTECTION

THE FORTRESS NORTH GUIDE
TO PROTECTIVE SECURITY

DISCRETION. PREPARATION. PROFESSIONALISM

Introduction

Executive Protection isn't about bodyguards.

It is about enabling people to live, travel and conduct business without unnecessary interruption.

The best protection is often invisible.

It begins long before a journey starts, a meeting takes place or a threat appears.

At Fortress North, we combine operational experience, intelligence-led planning and professional discretion to reduce risk before it becomes a problem.

Our role is simple.

Allow our clients to focus on life and business while we quietly manage the rest.

What is Executive Protection?

Executive Protection is a specialist security discipline designed to protect people rather than places.

Unlike traditional guarding, executive protection combines intelligence gathering, operational planning, travel security, behavioural awareness and discreet close protection.

Protection is built around the client's lifestyle rather than asking the client to adapt to security.

Every assignment is unique.

Every risk is different.

Every solution is tailored.

Why clients require Executive Protection

People requiring protection include:

CEOs

High Net Worth Individuals

Sports Personalities

Entrepreneurs

Visiting Executives

Public Figures

Family Offices

Government Officials

International Visitors

These clients often face risks that traditional security cannot effectively manage.

Understanding Risk

Effective protection begins with understanding risk.

By utilising tried and tested methods like the National Decision Model we are able to evaluate threats, such as:

- Personal threats
- Reputational risks
- Digital exposure
- Travel vulnerabilities
- Residential security
- Daily routines
- Event security

Only after understanding risk can effective protection begin.

Protective Intelligence

Information creates advantage.

Protective intelligence allows us to identify potential risks before they become operational issues.

This includes:

- Open-source intelligence
- Behavioural observations
- Journey assessments
- Local intelligence
- Threat monitoring

Preparation is always more effective than reaction.

Residential Security

Your home should be your safest place.

Fortress North conducts discreet residential security reviews covering:

- Property assessment
- Entry points
- Staff procedures
- Family safety
- Daily routines
- Emergency planning
- Technology recommendations

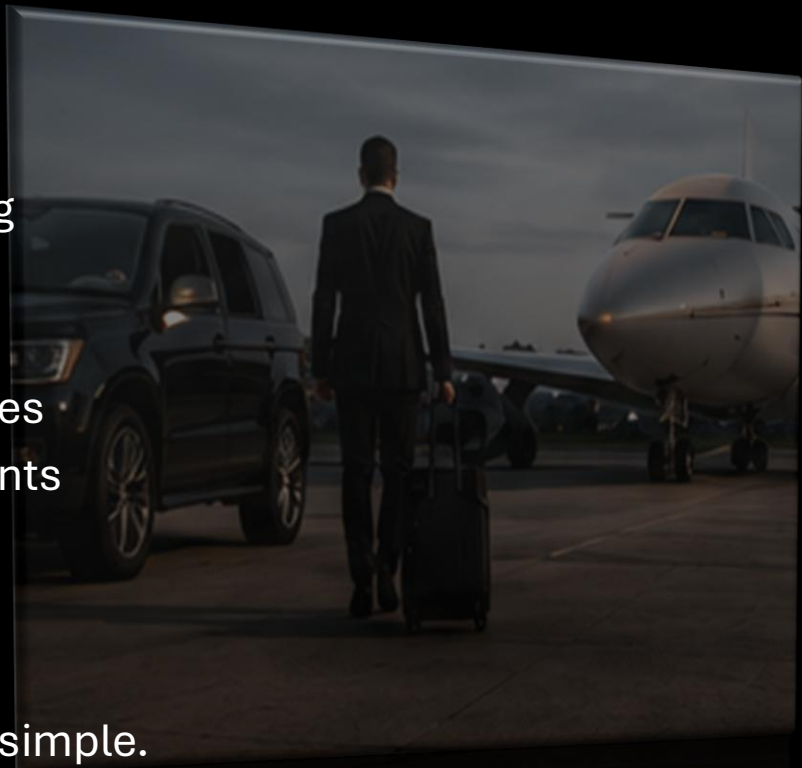

Good residential security creates confidence without changing the character of your home.

Secure Travel

Travel creates opportunity.
It also creates vulnerability.

We manage:

- Journey planning
- Hotels
- Routes
- Arrival procedures
- Airport movements
- Vehicles
- Advance teams
- Contingencies
- Our objective is simple.
- Allow clients to travel confidently anywhere in the world.

Executive Driving

Professional drivers provide far more than transportation.

They provide:

- Observation
- Route flexibility
- Protective positioning
- Escape planning
- Situational awareness
- Calm decision making

Driving becomes part of the protection plan.

Advance Work

Every successful protection operation begins long before the client arrives.

Advance work includes:

- Venue assessments
- Emergency planning
- Medical facilities
- Safe rooms
- Police liaison
- Alternative routes
- Communication plans

Preparation removes uncertainty.

Crisis Management

Preparation matters most when plans change.

Fortress North develops practical contingency plans for situations including:

- Medical emergencies
 - Vehicle failures
 - Civil unrest
- Natural disasters
- Security incidents
- Unexpected protests

Prepared teams remain calm because decisions have already been considered.
